

The Mid-Atlantic Reformation Society Presents: An Old Fashioned Election Day Sermon

In colonial days it was common practice for Christian preachers to preach an “election day sermon” on the occasion of public elections. Now there is an opportunity to experience the kind of preaching that our forefathers heard on these occasions.

As Christians we highly value liberty and independence. We invite you to hear Pastor Paul Michael Raymond expound these principles from a deeply Biblical perspective in his message: Tyranny, Independence, or Liberty Under God?

Understanding these principles is crucial in the times we face.

In addition to the exciting Biblical sermon, there will be hymn singing and a time of fellowship. A free will offering will be received.
